CLASS C AND D LEAGUES

Trimmed Norfolk, Leaders in Virginia Circuit.

PORTSMOUTH WANTS TO STAY

Backers of the Truckers Will Fight for Franchise-Elizabeth City, N. C., Would Like to Join Boatwright's Organization,

LYNCHBURG, VA., September 26.—
Picture in your mind a team making practically a runaway race in a C class circuit and never being headed during the season, and the champions of a D class circuit, which won the championship by .003 points, after a hot fight, and then it will be hard to understand why Winston-Salem, the champions of the North Carolina League, so easily trimmed Norfolk, the champions of the North Carolina League, so easily trimmed Norfolk, the champions of the Virginia League, in the recent post-season series Winston-Salem only nosed out in the Carolina fight a few days before the race ended, while Norfolk was in first position from the beginning of the Virginia season until the end, and yet the Carolina champions walloped Norfolk with apparent ease.

The series appears to have been too folk with apparent ease.

The series appears to have been too much Ray, who pitched for Winston-Salem, for to him went the credit for three wins, while Markle, the Norfolk pitching prize, who went through the season like a house on fire, proved easy plucking for the Tarheels. Second to Pitcher Ray was Left Fielder Stuart, who, proved to be the "John Baker" of the series, for his hitting average was .368. In seven hits he got four home runs and a double, his total bases for the series being twenty.

In the series Winston-Salem hit at

In the series being twenty.

In the series Winston-Salem hit at .244, and Norfolk at .233, while Winston-Salem fielded at .947 and Norfolk at .958. The Carolinas are credited with seven stolen bases and Norfolk with ten, while the total bases hit for in the five games were: Norfolk, thirty-seven: Winston-Salem, sixty-seven.

The pitching record for the series was as follows:

The statement is made by the last bey of backers in Pertsmouth that it is not only their expectation to back a team in that city next season, but that they have already made up their minds to light to retain the Virginia League franchise if this be necessary. There seems to be no doubt that Roanoke will surrender the franchise this fail, and that the magnates will be forced to look around for the sixth town. Although it has been predicted in Richmond that a four-club league would be arranged for in case Portsmouth should quit, but no one expectate see any such a foolish move. Eliabeth City. N. C. is available to take the place of the Magic City, so the magnates should have little trouble in fixing up a new circuit, in case Roanoke stops.
